What does the RGS standard look like in English?

Year group: 8

Task: Non-fiction article based on travel.

Keeping the audience engaged

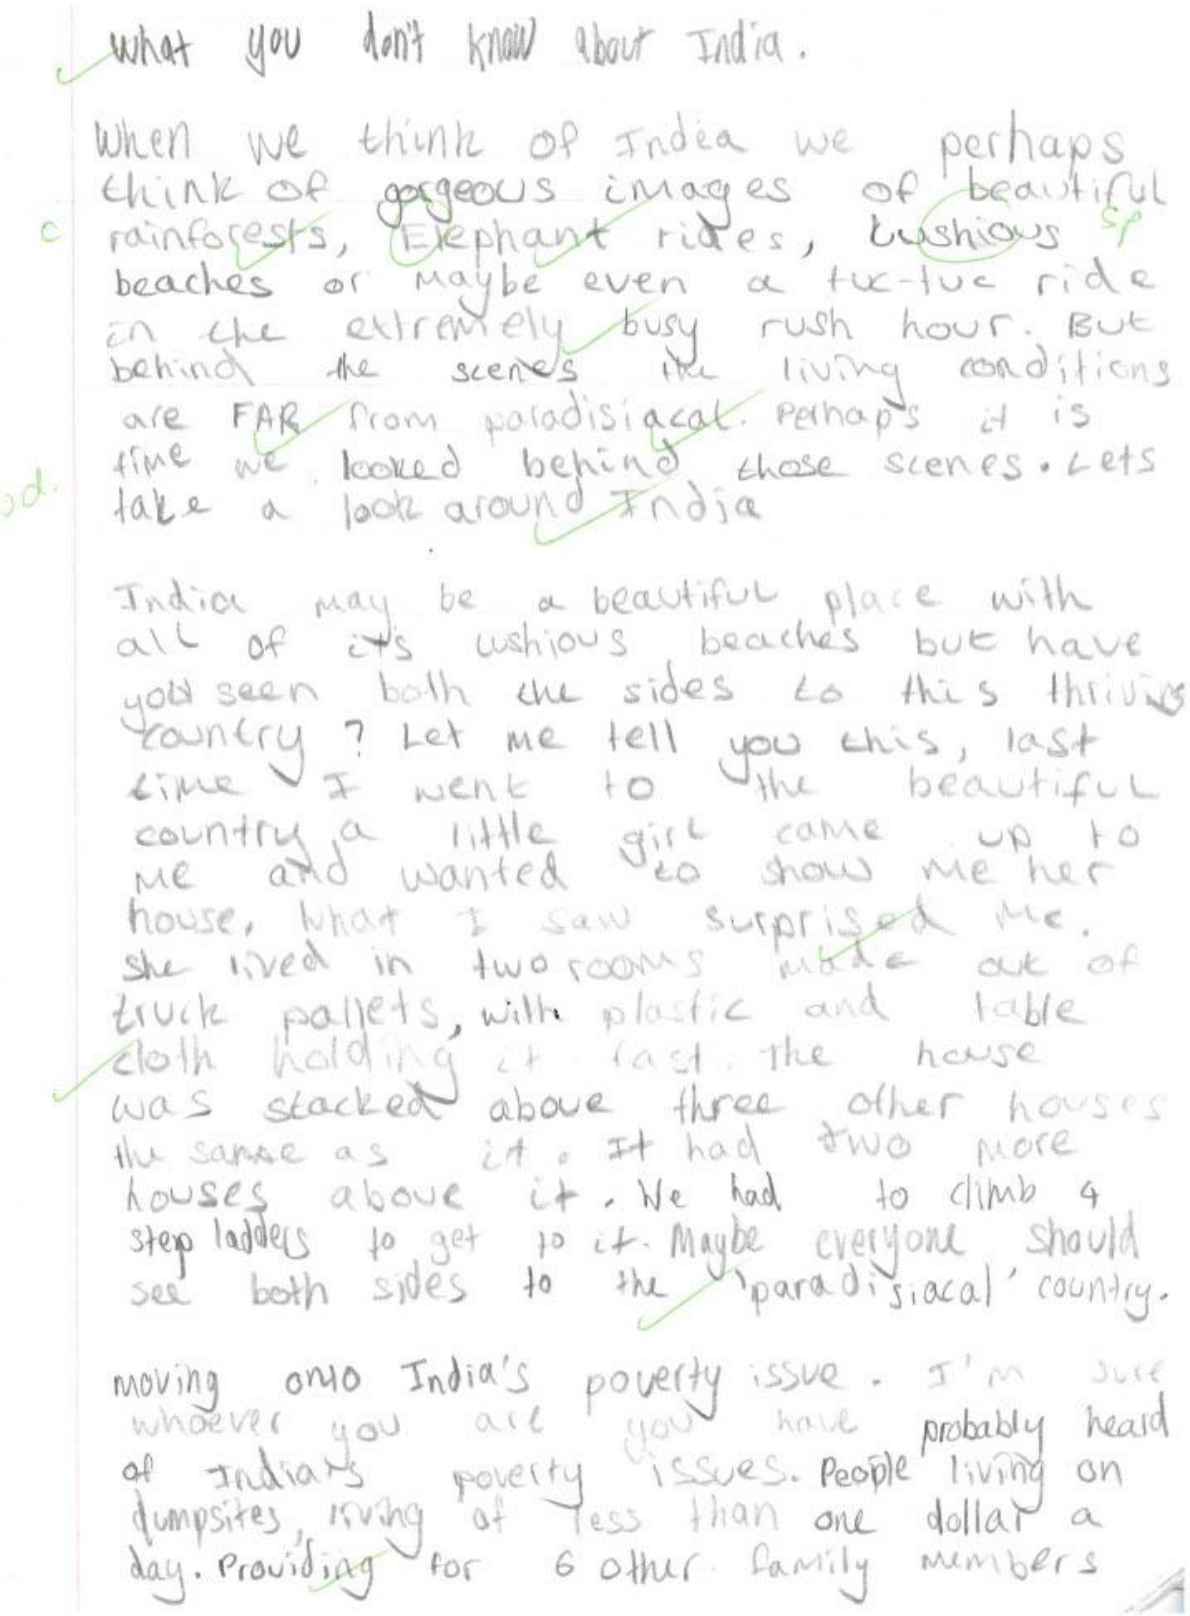
Purpose and form of writing are clear

Using ambitious vocabulary

Variety of punctuation used correctly

Logically organised paragraphs with links.

Range of sentence structures



what you don't know about India.

When we think of India we perhaps think of gorgeous images of beautiful rainforests, Elephant rides, lushious beaches or maybe even a tuc-tuc ride in the extremely busy rush hour. But behind the scenes the living conditions are FAR from paradisiacal. Perhaps it is time we looked behind those scenes. Lets take a look around India

India may be a beautiful place with all of it's lushious beaches but have you seen both the sides to this thriving country? Let me tell you this, last time I went to the beautiful country a little girl came up to me and wanted to show me her house, what I saw surprised me. She lived in two rooms made out of truck pallets, with plastic and table cloth holding it fast. The house was stacked above three other houses the same as it. It had two more houses above it. We had to climb 4 step ladders to get to it. Maybe everyone should see both sides to the 'paradisiacal' country.

moving onto India's poverty issue. I'm sure whoever you are you have probably heard of India's poverty issues. People living on dumpsites, living of less than one dollar a day. Providing for 6 other family members